Solar Professionals appointed to NSW Government Energy Solutions Panel

Solar Professionals has been appointed to a new panel to provide solar energy solutions to Government departments across New South Wales.

The placement was awarded by the NSW Office of Environment and Heritage (OEH) last week, after a rigorous pre-qualification process. One of five companies selected, the Wagga Wagga business is the only regionally based Energy Service Company on the panel. A huge win for the Riverina group according to its Managing Director, Andrew Meurant.

‘This is an exciting step for our business. Having been appointed to the OEH and Local Government Procurement Solar Power Purchase Agreement Panel (PPA) earlier this year, we can now extend our offerings to include capital investment solar projects. The Panel will allow Government Agencies to access pre-qualified suppliers and help alleviate procurement regulations, saving them resources on tender processes.’

Mr Meurant says their place on the panel is largely due to their diversity of services and highly trained staff, committed to providing commercially sound energy saving solutions.

‘Being pre-qualified to deliver Energy Performance Contracts means we can now work across all methods of delivery for Solar PV and Battery Storage in the NSW Government sector’.
